

The Daniel Pearl Dialogue for Muslim-Jewish Understanding

featuring
Akbar Ahmed and Judea Pearl

Judea Pearl, a professor of computer science at the University of California, Los Angeles, is the father of journalist Daniel Pearl, the Wall Street Journal reporter who was kidnapped and murdered in Pakistan in February 2002. Akbar Ahmed is a former high commissioner of Pakistan to Great Britain, chair of Islamic Studies at American University, and author of "Islam under Siege."

Monday, February 28

7 p.m.

Duke University's Page Auditorium

The event is free and open to the public.

Akbar Ahmed and Judea Pearl have launched a personal yet public dialogue out of a concern about divisions between Muslims and Jews and a shared hope for reconciliation between these two Abrahamic faiths. Their discussions range from policy issues to global perceptions and address truth, lies, and deepest fears. Question-and-answer session and book signings will follow.

Sponsors: Office of the President, Kenan Institute for Ethics, Ar-Razzaq Islamic Center, Freeman Center for Jewish Life, Duke Chapel, Office of Student Affairs.

Information: (919) 681-8975

Akbar Ahmed

Judea Pearl