

2008 Douglas M. Schair Memorial Lecture on Genocide and Human Rights in cooperation with the Islamic Society of Portland and the Jewish Community Alliance of Southern Maine

Beyond the Clash of Civilizations

a dialogue for Muslim-Jewish understanding

A conversation with Judea Pearl and Akbar Ahmed, founders of the Daniel Pearl Dialogue for Muslim-Jewish Understanding

Judea Pearl, father of Daniel Pearl, scientist, and professor Akbar Ahmed, ambassador, professor, and authority on Islam

Judea Pearl

Monday, April 7, 2008
7:00-9:00 p.m.

University of Southern Maine, Portland campus
Hannaford Hall, Abromson Community Education Center

Free and open to the public

For information and access inquiries call 780-5331, TTY 780-5646. ASL interpreter provided.
Convenient parking in attached garage.

Akbar Ahmed

"To end genocide, we must first end indifference." —Douglas M. Schair

Sponsored by The Hudson Foundation in memory of Douglas M. Schair and by the USM Academic Council for Christian, Jewish, and Islamic Studies with Catalyst for Peace; Maine Humanities Council; Marcus, Clegg and Mistretta, PA; Osher Lifelong Learning Institute; United Way of Greater Portland; and USM University Advancement

Armenian Cultural Society of Maine; Preti, Flaherty, Beliveau, Pachios & Haley, LLP; The Law Offices of Joe Bornstein; USM Office of the President
The Aurora Financial Group; City of Portland; Jack Dunfey and Robert Dunfey; Jewish Community Alliance of Southern Maine; Roman Catholic Diocese of Portland; State of Maine
Office of Multicultural Affairs; University of New England Department of English; USM Department of Political Science; USM Model United Nations; USM Office of the Provost
Maine Council of Churches; Temple Shalom Synagogue-Center, Auburn; University of Maine School of Law; NAACP Portland Branch; USM Bookstores; USM Campus Diversity and Equity; USM Glickman Family Library; USM Honors Program; USM Department of Modern and Classical Languages and Literatures; USM Lewiston-Auburn College; USM Muskie School of Public Service; USM Department of History;
USM Women and Gender Studies

With special thanks to the Portland Harbor Hotel, the Douglas M. Schair Memorial Lecture Committee, and the Greater Portland Working Collaborative of Refugee and Immigrant Communities

UNIVERSITY OF
SOUTHERN MAINE