

Tributes to Daniel Pearl:

Daniel Pearl World Music Days

Thursday, October 5, 8:00 p.m.

Memorial Church, Stanford University

A musical tribute honoring the life and memory of slain Wall Street journalist, musician and Stanford graduate, Daniel Pearl. The theme this year is "Friendship", celebrated by works from Jonathan Berger, Osvaldo Golijov, Rossi, Respighi, and others, performed by music faculty, students, and guests.

For more information, call (650) 723-2720 or visit music.stanford.edu

Co-sponsored by Department of Music, Stanford's Office for Religious Life, and Hillel at Stanford.

The First Annual

Daniel Pearl Memorial Lecture

Tuesday, October 17, 7:30 p.m.

Kresge Auditorium, Stanford University

This lecture series was founded in memory of Daniel Pearl, to honor Danny's commitment to the improvement of the human condition and his lifework of connecting people through words and music. We are pleased to present the inaugural lecture:

"Journalism and the World"

by:

Christiane Amanpour

CNN Chief International Correspondent

For more information, call (650) 736-1199 or visit: hillel.stanford.edu or www.danielpearl.org

Co-sponsored by Stanford University's Office of the President, the Office for Religious Life, Hillel at Stanford, the Daniel Pearl Foundation, and the ASSU Speakers Bureau.

Both events are free and open to the public

